Music students earn honors

Four Fairport students received honors at the Young Artists Auditions at the Eastman School of Music in March. Johanna Cox, who plays oboe, won the Eisenhart Awards for winds and her twin sister Lenora, who plays violin, won the Albright Award for strings. They will now have the opportunity for solo performances with the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra. Both young artists have participated in the Fairport Central School District music program for several years. Johanna and Lenora are the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cox, Watson Road.

Also receiving audition honors were Mamatha Kamath and Karen Seidel. Mamatha was a co-first runner for the Ranlet Piano Award, and Karen, who plays the flute, placed second for the Eisenhart Award. Karen was selected to play on the "Live from Hochstein" broadcast on WXXI. Mamatha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Venkatesh Kamath, Taunton Gap; Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Seidel, Brentwood Lane.

All four students were honored at an Awards Recital April 8 at the Rochester Memorial Art Gallery.

Obituaries

Margaret Monihan

Mass of Christian Burial for Margaret M. Monihan, who died April 10, 1990, was celebrated Monday morning from Assumption of Our Lady Church. She was 81.

Miss Monihan, the daughter of the late Frank and Mary Murphy Monihan, had been in ill health for several months.

She is survived by her sister, Mary Cross of Fairport; her nephew, James Cross; and two great-nephews.

Friends may contribute to the Perinton Ambulance Corps in memory of Miss Monihan.

Arrangements were made by the Richard H. Keenan Funeral Home.

ELIZABETH ANNE (Buffy) Payne of Fairport will graduate from Syracuse University in May as an elementary education major with an emphasis on special education. She earned Dean's List honors during her final semesters and achieved superior recognition in music, practice teaching and the Tau Beta Sigma National Honor Band Sorority. She recently served as trumpet section leader for the traveling Sour Citrus Pep Basketball Band.
